LA FOLLETTE LEADS HOT FIGHT ON THE RATE BILL

CAN'T IMPROVE IT SO VOTE FOR BILL

Opponents of Rate Measure when Fight Fails Pass Measure as Best Obtainable Now

BOB FIGHTS TO LAST DITCH

His Amendments Are Repeatedly Turned Down by Senate Regulars Late Friday

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 4.—"A step forward" is the explanation made by many senators of their action in voting for the senate railroad bill. That is the reason that close contests on many important amendments were followed by overwhelming vote of 50 to 12 in favor of the bill when it was passed. It was a case of taking that or nothing and the dissatisfied ones decided to accept the bill for the good it contained and to hope for the day when the objectional features might be eliminated by amending the new law.

The creation of a court of commerce which is to be devoted entirely to the consideration of cases growing out of the interstate commerce law will be the hardest to swallow by progressive senators. Against the court there was urged the claim of lack of necessity; that if it had been in existence during the last three years, it would have been called upon for the trial of only 28 cases; that its creation would be an unconstitutional act; that it would be unwise to place such tremendous interests as are involved under the transportation business under the jurisdiction of a small body of men; that the railroads would get their own men on the bench of the court and that its creation was a useless expense.

Some Features Eliminated

The features of the bill most favorable to railroads as it was reported by the interstate commerce committee were eliminated before it reached the final vote. These provided for the repeal of the Sherman anti-trust act to the extent of permitting railroads to enter into agreements as to rates; for the merger of railroads and for the alleged control by the interstate commerce commission of the issue of railroad securities. The latter, said Senator La Follette, left open to the railroads six different ways of issuing watered stock. There are a number of provisions in the senate and house bills that are identical in terms and these cannot be altered by the conference committee.

May Hold Down Rates

Expert statesmen have said that some of these will have a beneficial effect in keeping freight rates within bounds, but for the most part they are clear only to people skilled in the transportation problem.

A balm for the bereft is offered by a provision in each bill permitting railroads to issue passes to the families of persons who are killed by trains.

If a railroad lowers rates to kill competition by water, it can never raise those rates without the consent of the interstate commerce commission.

The commerce court is in both bills.

Shippers may be represented in the commerce court on appeals from

La Follette Leads Fight.

On the final vote all republicans in the senate voted for the bill and 12 democrats against it. La Follette led the opposition in the final fight and spoke for the progressives as a whole. His fight created sensational scenes in the senate, and his hot retorts to "machine" critics as amendment after amendment were voted down by the strength of the opposition, caused a flurry of excitement. LaFollette thoroughly analyzed the bill, showing up the points which were for the railroads, and those favoring the public. He said as drafted under Taft's direction it contained only four provisions which could be construed as favoring the public interest, while there were twelve favoring the railroads. Against the combined opposition of the administration and the railroads, said Mr. La Follette, "the progressive republicans and democrats have succeeded in eliminating many of the most harmful provisions, and in writing into it much that is of substantial benefit to the public." He thereupon detailed 16 amendments forced upon the senate bill.

HEAVY FROST AT THE COURT HOUSE

Forty Old Time Stalwarts Meet Lonesomely and "Resolute" and Name Delegates

A count of noses showed fifty-eight people present when the heralded "republican" convention met in the court house this afternoon to elect delegates to the stalwart convention at Milwaukee, June 8. Among those present five pronounced democrats and four pronounced La Follette men were recognized. How many more were onlookers cannot be said, but that there were others is indicated by the fact that several left the room during the proceedings. It is therefore fair to estimate that there were not to exceed forty delegates there in answer to the 500 letters of invitation sent out by Chairman B. C. Smith, and nearly all of these were recognized as the old stalwart wheel horses, most of the remainder being the old guard of ward workers.

Half Must Go

As the county is accorded 21 delegates to the Milwaukee convention, more than half the delegates to today's convention will have to become delegates to the Milwaukee stalwart meeting, and despite the strenuous efforts that have been made it is probable that not a single delegate from here can be pointed to as ever having supported LaFollette or deviated from allegiance to stalwartism.

Smith in Chair

B. C. Smith called the meeting to order and read the call issued from Milwaukee after which F. H. Scofield was elected temporary secretary.

Upon motion J. M. Holley, Leonard Lottridge and D. H. Norton were apointed a committee on permanent organization and reported that the temporary organization be made permanent.

Thereupon Mr. Smith thanked the convention and declared that he was proud to preside over "the first republican convention held in La Crosse in a number of years." He said the object of the convention is to reaffirm allegiance to the national republican party and to further the interests of the party.

He said he was a firm believer in organization, the better the organization the better the success. He believed no steps should be taken to prevent any firm minded citizen to build up the republican party where it rightfully belongs. Many have been elected, he said, under the cloak of republicanism and discouraged the republican party and placed individual above party. These men, he said, placed laws upon the statutes to deprive a poor man from running for office. Mr. Smith urged that all La Crosse republicans work for "honor sake" the same as they used to.

Cox Interrupts.

L. B. Cox made a speech, but was interrupted by L. Lottridge, who asked if there was a question before the house. Mr. Cox charged the insurgents with gross misrepresentation during the past eight or ten years.

The Delegates

Those who attended the convention as delegates were J. L. Pettingill, F. P. Hixon, L. B. Cox, John M. Holley, B. C. Smith, George W. Burton, Roland B. Gelatt, Orlando Holway, F. A. Copeland, J. S. Medary, C. S. Van Auken, George H. Gordon, W. E. Barber, A. H. Mitchell, W. L. Rossiter, M. T. Burke, George Atkinson, Fred Hanchett, E. C. Burke, F. H. Scofield, John M. Holley, Jr., D. H. Norton, George McConnell, E. G. Perkins, A. S. Farnam, P. M. Gelatt, W. L. Osborne, Edward Cronon, I. H. Moulton, James B. Taylor, Bert Vincent, F. W. Sisson, Ferris, and L. Lottridge, Ephram Stevens, Jay Pettingill, W. F. McEldowney and Carl Knuteson of West Salem and Will Smith and R. M. Vaughan of Bangor. D. G. Whyte, L. B. Dickinson, Dr. Maine, F. R. Weston, A. P. Parsons

Resolutions Adopted

The following resolutions were adopted:

"The Republicans of La Crosse county in conference assembled, declare the purpose of this meeting to be the promotion of the movement to harmonize all elements of the party and to bring these into consistent and resolute support of the national administration in the vigorous effort it is making to redeem the pledges of the last National Republican platform.

"Therefore be it resolved

"1. That the administration of President Taft, now in its second year, has our unqualified approval, and shall continue to have our loyal support. It has courageously met the obligations resting upon it by reason of the promises made in the platform upon which it was elected. We have every confidence that its future course fill exert an equally powerful influence for the purity of government and the posperity and happiness of our people.

2. That the delegates chosen by this conference to the state confer-

MANY GREAT POLITICAL BATTLES TO BE STAGED

The above shows a few of the men who will be engaged in hot political fights for seats in the senate in the coming campaign.

LORENZ HAFNER DIES IN A CHAIR

Former Resident of This City Expires Suddenly at Home on South R[illegible]

While sitting in [illegible] partaking of a he[illegible] dinner, Lorenz Hafner, a former resident of this city, expired suddenly at his home on South Ridge at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hafner had been in poor health for the past two years, but he was able to be about the house and yesterday he was apparently feeling well. He was 81 years of age.

Decedent settled in South Ridge in 1865 and lived there up to nine years ago, when he moved to La Crosse. Two years ago, after the death of his wife, he returned to the old homestead on South Ridge.

Surviving are four sons and two daughters. They are Felix, Frank, Lorenz, Jr., and John, all of South Ridge and Mrs. G. Engstler of Union, Minn., and Mrs. Mary Hilby of East Dubuque, Ill.

The funeral will be held Monday morning from St. Joseph's Cathedral in this city and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

TAFT WARNED OF IMPENDING DANGER

DETROIT, Mich., June 4. — Although his stay in Detroit was brief, President Taft was in receipt of one anonymous threatening letter. The letter was turned over to the police.

The missive spoke of plans on foot to assassinate the president, Col. Roosevelt and a few others. President Taft was warned to keep away from certain places while he was in Detroit.

The writer also announced that the president had best take extra precautions during July and August. The communication was half in English and half in Polish.

NEW YORK, June 4.—General liquidation was again the order of the day in the stock market. Renewed pressure was seen soon after the opening which, however, was at only fractional changes from yesterday. Then the whole list gave way, and every heavy selling was seen in Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Atchison, Reading, Northern Pacific, St. Paul and the steel stocks The liquidation was of the same character as yesterday's with very different support until the last hour when there was a sharp rally, caused in part by heavy covering of contracts by speculators for the decline. On this recovery prices advanced from 1 to 3 points above the low level of the day with even greater gains in special stocks. The London market for American shares was much broader with fair advances from yesterday's closing and the character of the foreign buying here indicated that absorption from that source was a factor in the recovery at New York.

The market became fairly active on the advance and there was good buying in many of the stocks that made new low records later in the day.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS HUGS AND KISSES

Mrs. Prosser Spooned with Her Divorced Husband in Pullman Before Shooting Him

[illegible] shooting her recently divorced husband, Reese H. Prosser in a sleeping room on a Great Northern train Thusday.

She was arraigned before a justice of the peace last night following the coroner's inquest and entered a plea of not guilty, waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the district court. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that Prosser came to his death by gunshot wounds inflicted by Mrs. Prosser. The tragedy on the speeding Pullman car followed a love scene in the drawing room which followed advances both by Prosser and his divorced wife toward reconciliation and remarriage, according to the testimony at the inquest.

C. C. Arlington, a Philadelphia policeman, who was on the train and who arrested Mrs. Prosser was the chief witness at the inquest and his testimony gives an insight into the affair and the relations of Prosser and his wife just before the tragedy.

Confided in Policeman

Arlington said he was taken into confidence by Mrs. Prosser soon after the train left Seattle. She told him that Shaefer had got influence over her husband, he testified, and said Shaefer was trying to separate them.

She declared that Miller and Shaefer were keeping her husband drunk so as to keep him from her, Arlington testified.

Worshipped Dead Man

"I worship the very ground he walks on," Mrs. Prosser avowed to Arlington, and then she related that Prosser had gone through $15,000 of her money.

"Then he began to tell me that I was getting skinny," she complained, according to Arlington, "and he would say I was not as good looking as other girls he met."

When she said this, Arlington stated, the train was passing along a river. "I'd like to hop off into that," Mrs. Prosser exclaimed, said Arlington, "but before I go I will get him."

It was after the train left Libby, Arlington said, that he learned of the shooting and discovered that Mrs. Prosser had left the train. He said that at the next station he got off and took the first train back, ineding to cause Mrs. Prosser's arrest.

"Is He Dead."

"When I got back to Libby," said Arlington, "I found Mrs. Prosser in the act of taking a train. I told her that I wanted her for what she had done. She asked if they had

ROOSEVELT MOST POWERFUL FIGURE WORLD EVER KNEW

WASHINGTON, June 4.— The mental picture of President Roosevelt sitting at the head of an international court of arbitration, the dominating and most powerful figure the world every knew, was seen by some statesmen today, despite the fact that Secretary Knox looks upon the suggestion as "impossible" because Roosevelt is not versed in international law.

The proposition depends upon the ultimate success of the plan for the international court. In the meantime it appears likely that President Roosevelt will head a proposed peace commission of five to be created by congress.

PAPER TRUST IS BIG CONTRIBUTOR

Sends $20,000 Into This State to Be Used in Defeating Senator La Follette

SLUSH FUND SENT TO CONNOR

But, Having Been Repudiated by Stalwarts, a New "Agent" Must Be Found

MADISON, Wis., June 4.—The second installment of the slush fund of the special interests to defeat Senator La Follette for re-election to the United States senate has arrived. Another $20 000, the contribution of the paper trust, has reached this state to be disbursed in the campaign to defeat the chief of the insurgents.

The first installment, also of $20,000, was brought to Wisconsin a few weeks ago, and despite great efforts at secrecy, existence of the fund became public knowledge through the press. It was consigned to W. D. Connor at Marshfield, Taft's chosen leader in the fight against insurgency in this state, and later was taken back to Chicago for disbursement outside the state dominions and thus avoid publication in the campaign expense account.

Now that Connor has been repudiated by the stalwarts themselves and literally kicked out of their "convention," some other trusty agent must be found to handle the big fund raised by [illegible] street and other interests where La Follette and his con[illegible] bringing of the [illegible] and its proposed [illegible] question. A well known [illegible] the cat out of the bag this week left his informants in no doubt the designing nature of the fund.

Why Paper Trust is Anxious

The paper interests are especially embittered against La Follette. They can't forget that it was the senior senator for Wisconsin who, during the fight on the tariff bill, insisted that a permanent policy of a tariff rate on print paper of $4 per ton is economically unsound, and that a duty of $2 per ton is necessary to afford protection to the manufacturers of that product in this country, and that it is ample protection to the paper industry generally from Canadian competition. Although contending that the duty should be fixed at $2 per ton, he proposed that in order to give manufacturers in this line who are not close to the supply of raw material a rate of $4 a ton until July 1, 1912, when the $2 rate should go into effect. His amendment providing for the later date for the rate to take effect was to enable the mills now manufacturing print paper in Wisconsin to so adjust themselves with respect to the manufacture of paper not requiring spruce wood that they could manufacture it economically without changing the location of those plants. Senator La Follette contended that the duty of $2 per ton would cover for every industry in this country which can legitimately claim protection the actual difference in the cost of production in this country and Canada.

The coming of the man with the money bags indicates, as has been stated before, that the coming campaign is to be one of money against principle. The stalwart crowd, having the backing of the national administration, will also have the assurance that they shall not lack for the filthy lucre with which to influence Wisconsin politics.

Sherman's Visit

The announcement that Vice President James S. Sherman will speak at the "loyalty-to-Taft" conference, the stalwart organization, in Milwaukee on June 8, is the last thing necessary to hook up the administration with the old stalwart ring. In holding their "convention," it is being pointde out the stalwarts and the administration sympathizers are acting to nullify the state primary law. Not only that, however, it is reasoned, but they are abandoning the regular republican organizations in this state and forming a rump organization. With this plan the national administration, by sending "Jim" Sherman to represent it at the "convention," is placed in an attitude of acquiescence with the irregular organization, against which, way back in 1904, the supreme court ruled, and ruled firmly.

The progressive adherents not only in Wisconsin but in outside states look upon this alliance of the administration as peculiarly unfortunate as a precedent which will be extremely difficult to justify in the future.

ALPHONSO IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

MADRID, June 4.—The condition of King Alfonso's health since the king's return from London is causing grave apprehension. Rumors are afloat that Alfonso is seriously affected with both catarrhal and pulmonary trouble.

Alfonso admitted that the funeral had wearied him frightfully which was considered unusual in view of his youth and athletic habits.

LET PEOPLE PAY IT SAYS PERKINS

Indications Are Shippers May Be Induced to Withdraw Rate Opposition and Shift it to Public

"PRESSURE" TO BE EXERTED

Nation-wide Fight will Include "Laying Down" on Taft by the Big "Interests"

NEW YORK, June 4.—The fight for and against the increased freight rates by the railroads of the country is rapidly taking on titanic proportions.

On the side of the railroads are being lined up the manufacturers of railway materials, equipment and supplies, and through them every person who draws a benefit from the sale or manufacture of materials used by the railroads and all merchants who profit from the wage earners of those so employed.

On the other side are the manufacturers, farmers and shippers generally. Injected into the fight are the thousands of commuters who are enraged by the announcement that all commutation rates are to be increased to "meet the increased payrolls" of the railroads. The commuters first wanted to know why they were to be the "goats" and stand the burden for the wage increases. Then came the announcement that freight rates were going up for the same reason and the commuters have joined hands with the shippers to aid the attorney general in his fight to keep rates down.

Scope Nation-wide

[illegible] result is a contest every man, [illegible] the United [illegible] have [illegible] as the [illegible] the west [illegible] federal court [illegible] will probably be [illegible] at least, from raising t[illegible]

That the railroads realize [illegible]ence will be required to make the people see the necessity for higher rates is shown by a call for a conference of the general executive committee of the railroad business association. These will meet at the Hotel Belmont next Wednesday and will consider plans for aiding the railroads.

Composed as it is of manufacturers of railway equipment, supplies and materials in 25 states,' it was brought into the fight by the railroads who threatened to cancel all orders for new cars, engines and equipment.

Will "Appeal" to Public

President Geo. A. Post in discussing the situation said at the meeting a "strong appeal" will be prepared to the people and federal officials to consider in a broad way the necessities of the railroads and "avoid the calamitous blunder of technical victories in litigation which may result in widespread industrial and commercial distress."

It was intimated by persons interested in this association that pressure will be brought to bear on President Taft of such a character that the department of justice will be compelled to withdraw its suit against the western roads.

"Let George Pay It."

Already it is said the influence of J. P. Morgan and Company exerted through Geo. W. Perkins has led the western shippers to rescind much of their opposition to increased rates. Perkins, it is declared by men familiar with the situation here, has pointed out to the shippers that they could pass any increase on to the consumer and that their business would not be hurt by a "reasonable advance in rates."

Meanwhile the various chambers of commerce of the cities forming the rim of a wheel 75 miles out from New York are combining to fight the advance to the commuters in the courts. This fight will be fully as lively as the freight rate fight and much more picturesque. In New Jersey Gov. Fort has been interested in the fight while in New York the state public service commission has take up the cudgels for the commuters.

ANTI-FOREIGN IS CHINESE UPRISING

PEKIN, June 4.—A repetition of the boxer uprising of a decade ago though on much larger scale is feared by government officials in view of further alarming reports received today from parts of the Hunan, Kiang Su and Chi Li provinces.

The situation is declared to be analagous to that preceding the boxer outbreak. How to check the trouble before it assumes such proportions as to necessitate the threatened foreign intervention is now the chief problem under discussion by Prince Chun, the regent, and his advisers.

The cloak of an anti-Manchu uprising under which the agitators have been working has now been thrown off and it is seen that the trouble is purely anti-foreign.

TOM MAY GO IF HE WEARS A MUZZLE

Democratic Joke and Stalwart Blunder Lead to Embarrassment for Convention Officials

WOULD GIVE $25 TO TALK

That Is Price Morris would Pay to Tell Convention what He Thinks of the Leaders

Having forgotten the trifling matter of inviting a republican candidate for lieutenant governor to attend the stalwart "republican" convention, and upon learning that the candidate was inquiring about the price of tickets in order to break into the said "republican" convention with a "keynote" speech, Chairman B. C. Smith today seized both horns of an embarrassing dilemma by inviting Senator Tom Morris to attend and leave his speech at home.

It all came out of a conversation over the telephone. Tom answered the ring, and a voice on the line said it was George H. Ray talking, and would Senator Morris please come to the convention.

Tom's left eyelash dropped dead upon his cheek in a comprehending wink at Jones on Evidence. It wasn't Ray's voice.

"I'll give $25 to go if I can make a speech and tell them what I think of them," said the senator.

An explosion of laughter from A. H. Schubert, of Mahoney and Schubert, the democratic law firm, was the reply. The two men talked over the joke, and Schubert rung off.

But it was too good for a democrat to keep, and Mr. Schubert passed it along to the stalwart leaders. It dawned upon them that in not inviting Tom, they had made a tactical blunder. But what to do? Thia[illegible] themselves so that [illegible] a speech, [illegible] the speech [illegible] received the following [illegible]

"La Crosse, Wis., June 3, 1[illegible]

"Thomas Morris, City:

"Dear Sir: I have been informed that you desire to attend the republican conference to be held in the court house tomorrow afternoon and address the meeting.

"It was impossible to send personal notice to every republican in the county, but as I understand the call every republican is invited and entitled to participate in the meeting.

"It is not expected that any one would come with the intention of creating a disturbance or to inject factional politics into the meeting.

"Yours respectfully,

"B. C. SMITH, Chairman."

A "Mean Disposition"

Anybody dropping into Senator Morris' office this morning might have been engulfed by the broad grin that folded pleats in his bland countenance as he dictated the following reply:

Morris' Reply

"Mr. B. C. Smith, City:

"My Dear Smith: I just received your invitation to attend the convention today. I believe I did make the remark yesterday that I would like to attend the convention and tell those who may be present what I

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

NEVIN SAYS BASS ARE UNPROTECTED

With a record of 125,500,000 little fishes distributed in the waters of Wisconsin lakes and streams, Supt. James Nevin is closing the season for the distribution of lake trout, book and rainbow trout, and pike, the last car of rainbow trout going out from the Madison hatchery tomorrow. Following are the numbers and varieties of fry already distributed:

Lake trout	32,000,000
Brook trout	5,000,000
Rainbow trout	3,500,000
Pike	85,000,000
Total	125,500,0000

Next week will begin the distribution of bass from the ponds at the state hatcheries at Minocqua and Delafield. Supt. Nevin is much disappointed with the results realized from the bass nests at the hatcheries. The cold spring has proved disastrous, not more than one-half the expected number of fry resulting.

Mr. Nevin says that the closed season for bass should be extended to July 1 as in an ordinary year the spawning season has not fairly begun by June 1, the date of opening for bass under the present law. Fully nine-tenths of the spawning is done in June and as artificial spawning of bass is not practical at the hatcheries the fish should be permitted to go uncaught at least a month later than at present.

$5,000 FOR CHICAGO INDIANAPOLIS FLIGHT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 4.—Prompted by the aeroplane flight from Albany to New York on Saturday by Glenn Curtiss an offer of $5,000 for a successful flight from Indianapolis to Chicago is made to contestants at the aviation meeting here June 13 to 18 inclusive. It is expected that Curtiss and Charles Hamilton will be among the aviators to contest for this prize.

The offer is made by the Wheeler-Schebler Carbureter Company, its only condition being that the winner's motor be equipped with a Schebler carbureter.

It's surprising how many people who are not in society are shocked by it.

THE RAILROAD BILL

The railroad bill has passed the senate. It is not a perfect bill, although by strenuous fighting the insurgents have eliminated bad features and added good ones until Wickersham, its author, will hardly recognize it. It would have been a better bill had several amendments defeated by the senate been incorporated, but the action of the insurgents in finally supporting it shows they regard it, as a whole, as an improvement over existing conditions. With the always present chance of improving it by future amendment, it was accepted as the best that could be done at this time.

The defeat of the La Follette amendment for physical valuation, endorsed by the interstate commerce commission many times, and once espoused by President Taft in a campaign speech, was expected, and it came at the hands of the Taft leaders without intervention to save it by the president. Another important amendment killed was that in which La Follette sought to bar owners of railway stock from membership in the commerce court that is to try railroad cases. It must have taken daring for the "interests" to eliminate this clause, but they did it, thus making possible the spectacle of a man owning stock in a railroad sitting as judge in a case between that railroad and the people.

So far did they succeed in amending the bill, that the measure as passed is a victory for the insurgents and a rebuke and a disappointment to the Aldrich crowd.

AN ANTICIPATED INCIDENT

Essence of a portion of ex-Head Game Warden J. W. Stone's testimony before the Stephenson investigation committee: Stone collected $1,200 from the deputy wardens and gave it to Governor Davidson as a contribution to his (the governor's) campaign expenses.

Taken from the statement of campaign expenses filed by Governor Davidson as a public record at Madison: My total campaign expenses were $600.

Gist of a remarkable portion of Governor Davidson's testimony before the Stephenson investigation committee: "I do not know what Stone gave me the $1,200 for. I have been trying to see him and find out. I am anxious to find to whom the money belongs and return it."

Note — Governor Davidson and Stone had offices in the same building and had met almost daily for months after the $1,200 was delivered to Davidson and prior to the above testimony of Davidson.

Governor Amid Great Excitement Prepares to Force the $1,200 Upon Him

MADISON, Wis., June 1.—Great excitement prevails in the executive office at the state capital Governor Davidson is hastily packing the $1,200 given him nearly two years ago by ex-Game Warden Stone, preparatory to a dash to Ashland, where Stone has been seen, and where the governor will thrust the money upon him. "Jim" simply will not be denied; Stone will have to take the money.

Seek Legal Method

MADISON, Wis., June 1.—Governor Davidson has instructed the attorney general to map out a line of legal procedure that may be depended upon to compel Stone to take the $1,200. It is anticipated that Stone will refuse to take it on the ground that he would incriminate himself. In that case he will be promised immunity. The proceedings will be either by Writ of Yellow Dog or Process of Jackpot, the mandamus being obsolete in Wisconsin.

MADISON, Wis., June 2.—Governor Davidson, fearing Stone may attempt to elude him, has thrown out a dragnet for his capture.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case With Many La Crosse People

Too many La Crosse citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and stooping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Can you doubt La Crosse evidence?

William P. Delphenick, mechanic, 1718 Badger St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills at every opportunity as I know that they are a safe cure for kidney trouble. About three years ago my back gave out and from morning until night I suffered from a dull ache through my kidneys. Someone finally told me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did, so procuring a supply at Erhart & Son's Drug Store. This remedy lived up to representations and entirely relieved me."

SPOTLIGHTS

NEW MAJESTIC BILL

Next week will see the return of the famous Harris and Robinson troupe, "A Bunch of Kids." The act played at the Bijou theater several years ago and made one of the season's hits there. Since that time the youthful song writers have composed several new songs which they are now using. Several of them are "Cannibal Love," "When Madad Tetrazin Sings Ciribiribin," "Kid Land," "Innocent Eyes" and "My Bunch of Sweetness." There are nine people in the act, eight of whom are sprightly and good looking singers and dancers to say nothing about the old veteran interlocutor. With the songs and added scenery the bunch of kids should be more of an attraction than ever.

The only real and original Four Flying Banvards who were such a hit in Minneapolis recently in their novel gymnastic and comedy act will be one of the features of the program which promises to be unusually bright next week. There are two men and two women in the act which is one of the most refined and sensational acts of its kind ever staged. They perform new and original feats in the air which until the Banvards appeared before the public were imagined as impossible. "I tell you, I have never seen anything like it," said a local man who had seen it at Minneapolis.

Eddie Dolan, that dyed in the wool Irishman, will be at the Majestic next week with his eccentric comedy act. Dolan by the way is a staunch son of Erin and has the map of the Emerald Isle on his countenance. His act is heralded as a record breaker for the production of laughs from any kind of an audience.

Young and Phelps, two clever actors will present the comedy singing and dancing sketch entitled "Shakespeare's Misfortune." It is breezy with novel songs and terpsichorean effort.

For the motion pictures next week Manager Koppelberger has secured several films of interesting picture stories.

TIGER AND LAMB

A splendid good play at the La Crosse theater tomorrow.

"The Tiger and the Lamb" is the striking title of one of the latest dramatic successes. The author, Eugene Moore, has gone to the Southland or rather to the "Skyland" as that section of the Appalachian range of mountains, separating Virginian and North Carolina from Kentucky and Tennessee, is sometimes called. It is on the Tennessee side where the scenes of "The Tiger and the Lamb" are laid. Strange as it may seem, in that section were many people who did not know twenty years after Lee had surrendered to Grant at Appomattox, that the war between the North and South had ended, so little did they hold communication with the outside world. It is from among these people that Mr. Moore has picked his characters. They know no laws, except of their own making. They believe in the old Jewish tenet, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth." To them all strangers are "furriners" and all "furriners" are looked upon with suspicion, and woe betide the "furiner" who attempts to pass through these mountains, refusing to let his name and business be known—the mountaineers' theory is, "If a man haint up to some devilment, what reason has he got for not tellin' his name, an' if he don't want to tell his name, he's a spy or a raider or an officer lookin' for some one, an' if he aint lookin' for trouble, he'd better tell his name when he's axed. Ef enough people air backin a custom anywhar, hit goes, don't hit?" Mr. John Fox, Jr., in his delightful stories, "The Shepherd of Kingdom Come" and the "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," has given a vivid description of this section of the country and the people of these mountains, and Mr. Fox's admirers will be prepared to appreciate and enjoy Mr. Moore's remarkable drama, "The Tiger and the Lamb," at the La Crosse theater on Sunday, June 5th, 1910, at La Crosse.

Tre Family Tree

The family tree of Snow was tall;
It sprang from a Winter, first of all,
Who marries a Frost, and then a Thaw,
Which meant, of course, more Snows-in-law.

Father Snow, who bossed the clan,
Was quite a slip'ry sort of man;
While Mother Snow, with temper warm,
Around the house would often storm.

Auntie Snow in slang would gush;
Her favorite saying was, "Oh, slush!"
While Uncle Snow profanely cussed
Whenever he had on a crust.

Grandpa Snow, the financier,
Clipped gilt-edged coupons year by year;
As trust promoter he had rank—
He organized the first Snow bank.

But stocks went down, and he on top—
They called the deal the big Snow drop;
And many said there was no doubt
But that old Snow was frozen out.

Full of Feeling

Scream upon scream issued from Rose cottage, disturbing the peace of the calm Saturday afternoon. Like a flash of lightning P.-c 1111 was on the scene, knocking at the door. A small boy in football knickers opened it.

"Well—wot's up?" demanded 1111.

"That's my brother, Bob," answered the boy. "He's cryin' 'cos ma has such bad eyesight, an' she's deaf, too."

"Well—Well,' gasped 1111, 'wot a kind feelin' little feller he must be!'"

"Oh, he's feelin' all right!" agreed the youngster. "Yer see, ma's mending his footer knickers, and he's got 'em on!"—Answers.

Inside and Out

Speaker Cannon, at a dinner in Washington, said soothingly to a young suffragette:

"After all, you know, there is room for both men and women in this world. Men have their work to do and women have theirs.

"It is the woman's work to provide for the inner man, and it is the man's to provide for the outer woman."—Washington Star.

The Automobile Ward

F. H. Tliiott, secretary of the American Automobile association, was discussing at a dinner in New York the automobilist's well known enthusiasm.

"A friend of mine," he said, "visited recently the automobile ward of a lunatic asylum. They have, you know, automobile wards now.

"It was a large, airy room, and along the wall were ranged some two dozen cots, but of the inmates not a trace was to be seen.

"'But, where are the inmates?' my friend asked the physician.

"'The inmates?' was the reply. 'Oh, they're all here. They're under the beds tinkering with the springs.'"—Washington Star.

Commercially Expressed

The exigencies of the occasion compelled the city editor to assign the young financial reporter to write the account of the ball. He was instructed to give particular attention to a description of the costumes of the ladies. The following excerpts from his report have been preserved:

"Miss Blimmers was the object of a good deal of flurry at the opening of the ball. Bidders were enthusiastic. She wore a spangled dress and was conspicuous during the season at about 187, preferred."

"Mrs. Marriem made her first appearance since her last divorce. She has been resting at the springs, and the reorganization sets her at par."

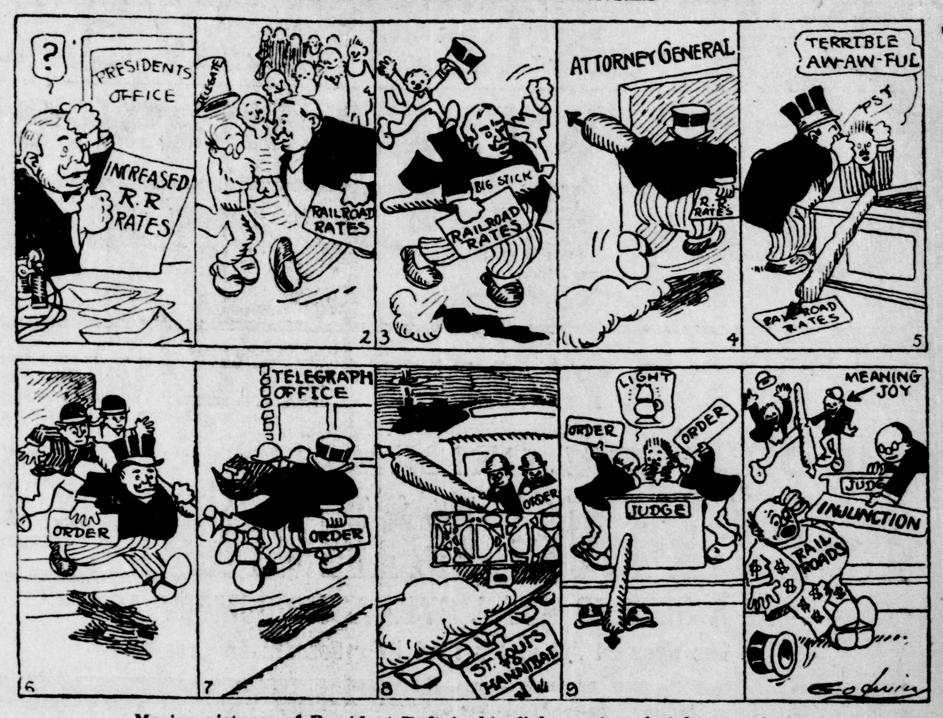

"Miss Newwun, in a simple white dress, was a tentative offering at the start, but within an hour jumped to 275. There was at that time a great scramble, but the lucky bidder, who is said to have been planning a squeeze, was Mr. Dash."

"Miss Boldun wore a costume that was 40, 30 and 10 off."—Life.

THE GOOSE GIRL

By HAROLD McGRATH

Copyright by Bobbs-Merrill Company

The smoke was so thick one could scarcely see two tables away, and if any foreigner chanced to open a window there was a hubdub; windows were made for light, not air. There were soldiers, non-commissioned officers—for the fall maneuvers brought many to Dreiberg—farmers and their families, and the men of the locality who made the Black Eagle a kind of socialist club. Socialism was just taking hold in those days, and the men were tremendously serious and secretive regarding it, as it wasnt strong enough to be popular with governments which ruled by hereditary might and right.

Gretchen came in, a little better dressed than in the daytime, the change consisting of coarse stockings and shoes of leather, of which she was correspondingly proud.

"Will you want me, Frau-Wirtin, for a little while tonight?" she asked.

"Till nine. Half a crown as usual."

Gretchen sought the kitchen and found an apron and cap. These half-crowns were fine things to pick up occasionally, for it was only upon occasions that she worked at the Black Eagle.

In an obscure corner sat the young vintner. He had finished his supper and was watching and scrutinizing all who came in. His face brightened as he saw the goose-girl; he would have known that head anywhere, whether he saw the face or not. He wanted to go to her at once, but knew this action would not be wise.

In the very corner itself, his back to the vintner's, and nothing but the wall to look at, was the old man in tatters and patches, the mountaineer who possessed a Swiss watch and gave golden coins to gose-girls. He was busily engaged in gnawing the leg of a chicken. Between times he sipped his beer, listening.

Carmichael had forgotten some papers that day. He had dined early at the hotel and returned at once to the consulate. He was often a visitor at the Black Eagle. The beer was sweet and cool. So, having pocketed his papers, he was of a mind to carry on a bit of badinage with Frau Bauer. As he stepped into the big hall, in his evening clothes, he was as conspicuous as a passing ship at sea.

"Good evening, Frau-Wirtin."

"Good evening, your Excellency." She was quite fluttered when this fine young man spoke to her. He was the only person who ever caused her embarrassment, even though temporary. There was always a whimsical smile on his lips and in his eyes, and Frau Bauer never knew exactly how to take him. "What is on your mind?" brightly.

"Many things. You haven't aged the least since last I saw you."

"Which was day before yesterday."

"Not any further back than that?"

"Not an hour."

She turned to make change, while Carmichael's eyes roved in search of a vacant chair. He saw but one.

"The goose-girl?" he murmured suddenly. "Is Gretchen one of your waitresses?"

"She comes in once in a while. She's a good girl and I'm glad to help her," Frau Bauer replied.

"I do not recollect having seen her here before."

"That is because you rarely come at night."

"Ah!"

Gretchen carried a tray upon which steamed a vegetable stew. She saw Carmichael and nodded.

"I shall be at yonder table," he said indicating the vacant chair. "Will you bring me a tankard of brown Ehrensteiner."

"At once, Herr."

Carmichael made his way to the table. Across the room he had not recognized the vintner, but now he remembered. He had crowded him against a wall two or three days before.

"This seat is not reserved, Herr?" he asked pleasantly, with his hand on the back of the chair.

"No." There was no cordiality in the answer. The vintner turned back the lid of his stein and drank slowly.

Carmichael sat down sidewise, viewing the scene with never-waning interest. These German taverns were the delight of his soul. Everybody was so kindly and orderly and hungry. They ate and drank like persons whose consciences were not overburdened. From the corner of his eye he observed that the vintner was studying him. Now this vintner's face was something familiar. Carmichael stirred his memory. It was not in Dreiberg that he had seen him before. But where?

Gretchen arrived with the tankard which she sat down at Carmichael's elbow.

"Will you not join me, Herr?" he invited.

"Thank you," said the vintner, without hesitation.

He smiled at Gretchen and she smiled at him. Carmichael smiled at them both tolerantly.

"What will you be drinking?"

"Brown," said the vintner.

Gretchen took up the empty tankard and made off. The eyes of the two men followed her till she reached the dim bar, then their glances swung round and met. Carmichael was first to speak, not because he was forced to, but because it was his fancy at that moment to give the vintner the best of it.

"She is a fine girl."

"Yes," tentatively.

"She is the handsomest peasant I ever saw or knew."

"You know her?" There was a spark in the vintner's eyes.

"Only for a few days. She interests me." Carmichael produced a pipe an dlighted it.

"Ah, yes, the pretty peasant girl always interests you gentlemen." There was a note of bitterness. "Did you come here to seek her?"

"This is the first time I ever saw her here. And let me add,' evenly, "that my interest in her is not of the order you would infer. She is good and patient and brave, and my interest in her is impersonal. It is not necessary for me to make any explanations, but I do so."

"Pardon me!" The vintner was plainly abashed.

"Granted. But you, you seem to possess a peculiar interest."

The vintner flushed. "I have that right," with an air which rather mystified Carmichael.

"That explains everything. I do not recollect seeing you before in the Black Eagle."

"I am from the north; a vintner, and there is plenty of work here in the valleys late in September."

"The grape," mused Carmichael. "You will never learn how to press it as they do in France. It is wine there; it is vinegar this side of the Rhine."

"France," said the vintner moodily. "Do you think there will be any France in the future?"

Carmichael laughed. "France is an incurable cosmic malady; it will always be. It may be beaten, devastated, throttled, but it will not die."

"You are fond of France?"

"Very."

"Do you think it wise to say so here?"

"I am the American consul; nobody minds my opinions."

"The American consul," repeated the vintner.

Gretchen could now be seen, wending her return in and out among the clustering tables. She set the tankards down, and Carmichael put out a silver crown.

"And do not bother about the change."

"Are all Americans rich." she asked soberly. "Do you never keep the change yourselves?"

"Not when we are in our Sunday clothes."

"Then it is vanity." Gretchen shook her head wisely.

"Mine is worth only four coppers tonight," he said.

The vintner laughed pleasantly. Gretchen looked into his eyes, and an echo found haven in her own."

Carmichael thirstily drank his first tankard, thinking: "So this vintner is in love with our goose-girl? Confound my memory! It never failed me like this before. I would give twenty crowns to know where I have seen him. It's only the time and place that bothers me, not the face. A fine beer," he said aloud, holding up the second tankard.

The vintner raised his; there was an unconscious grace in the movement. A covert glance at his hand satisfied Carmichael in regard to one thing. He might be a vintner, but the hand was as soft and well-kept as a woman's, for all that it was stained by wind and sunshine. A handsome beggar, whoever and whatever he was. But a man with hands like these mean well toward Gretchen? He was a thorough man of the world; he knew innocence at first glance, and Gretchen was both innocent and unworldly. To the right man she might be easy prey. Never to a man like Colonel von Wallenstein, whose power and high office were alike sinister to any girl of the peasantry; but a man in the guise of her own class, of her own world and people, here was a snare Gretchen might not be able to foresee. He would watch this fellow, and at the first sign of an evil—Carmichael's muscular brown hands opened and shut ominously. The vintner did not observe this peculiar expression of the hands; and Carmichael's face was bland.

FALLING HAIR STOPPED

Baldness Cured by Destroying the Parasitic Germ that Causes It

Baldness follows falling hair, falling hair follows dandruff; and dandruff is the result of a germ digging its way into the scalp to the root of the hair where it saps the vitality of the hair. To destroy that germ is to prevent as well as cure dandruff, falling hair, and, lastly, baldness. There is only one preparation known to do that, Newbro's Herpicide. Wherever it has been tried it has proven wonderfully successful. It can't be otherwise, because it utterly destroys the dandruff germ. "You destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10 cents in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. One dollar bottles guaranteed. Hoeschler Bros., special agents.

BOAT MAKES 28 MILES AN HOUR

Carl Rathke's "Russian Prince'" Launched Thursday; Fastest Here

The "Russian Prince," Carl Rathke's new speed boat, was launched in the Black river and given its maiden spin Thursday night. Mr. Rathke and those who were in the boat claim that it traveled at the rate of 28 1-2 miles an hour, in which event it is about the fastest motor boat in this vicinity. In trying the boat out, the propeller caught a huge cat fish, cutting it to pieces.

The boat is a beautiful piece of work and is 35 feet long. It was constructed mainly for speed purposes and has a narrow beam. It is equipped with a 25 horse power, 3 cylinder marine engine. Mr. Rathke today announced that he had accepted a challenge from the owner of one of the fastest boats on the upper Mississippi river for a race which will soon be pulled off.

Wingold

THE FINEST FLOUR IN THE WORLD

In the language of the late Bob Ingersoll—"Let us have sense;" reasonable, observing people should know that the best articles are not found on bargain counters; neither do the manufacturers of the best articles hold out premium inducements to customers. "WINGOLD" Flour is not in the bargain-counter or premium-offering class.

Northwestern Passengers Report Robbery of Passenger Yesterday; the Money Is Recovered

Passengers who arrived in the city yesterday noon on the Northwestern passenger train for the east related the robbing of eBrtel Anderson of $35 in the smoking car of the train just before it arived at Winona. George W. McGarvey, a fellow passenger, is held on suspicion.

Anderson was asleep in the seat with McGarvey beside him. When the former awoke and loked for his money it was gone. He told his seat mate of the incident and McGarvey said he had not taken the money. The latter then left the seat, returning in a few minutes, during which time he had probably concealed the money. When he attempted to leave the erain at Minnesota City he was held by Conductor Pendergast and Brakeman Jack Doone. Upon arrival at Winona an officer took him to the station. Examination revealed the $35 hidden in McGarvey's shoe.

Blatz—Blitz, I had an accident yesterday. Do you know what it is, an accident?

Blitz—Shure. An accident is a denting in what you make with an ax. Not?

Blatz—Yes. Wrong again as usual. But let me say it how it happened. As I came out of Beyschlag's Drug Store, on 503 Main street, yesterday afternoon, I dropped on the sidewalk two 25c bottles of "Lees Cream" what I just bought there.

Blitz—For what did you buy them? What for is it?

Blatz—Simpleton what you are! Did you never hear of "Lees Cream?" Why, there never yet was anything discovered before, what is so good for wind roughened skin, or sun burned skin. Mrs. Blatz couldn't get along without it. She uses it for years. It's a great favorite with all the ladies.

Blitz—Ach so! In this respect it is then very much like yourself, ha! ha! Come and join me for an ice cream at the Royal.

CORRECT SCHEDULE FOR SWIMMING

On account of the hours for manual training instruction conflicting with those given the first part of the week for the special swimming instruction to be given at the Y. M. C. A. next, the hours have been changed to those given in the schedule below.

Monday—Washington, 9 to 10; Washburn and Longfellow, 10 to 11; Lincoln and Hogan, 11 to 12, 1 to 1:30.

Tuesday—Jefferson, 9 to 10; Washburn and Longfellow, 10 to 11; Hamilton and Webster, 2:30 to 4; Lutheran, 11 to 12.

Wednesday—Washington, 9 to 10; Franklin and Logan, 10:30 to 12; Lincoln and Hogan, 1 to 2:30; Hamilton and Webster, 2:30 to 4.

Thursday—Jefferson, 9 to 10; Franklin and Logan, 10:30 to 12; Lutheran, 3 to 4.

GREAT ACTIVITY AMONG RY. HEADS

From top to bottom—F. A. Delano, president of the Wabash railroad; George J. Gould, president of the Missouri-Pacific railroad, and Marvin Hughitt, president of the Chicago and Northwestern railway.

CRICAGO.—Following the injunctions served on 25 western railroads to prevent the proposed increase in freight rates, great activity was evident among all railroad heads. Conferences were immediately called to size up the situation and find out exactly where they stood in the matter. The promptness with which President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham acted in this case was a great surprise to the railroads.

PROFESSOR DENIES A LOVE AFFAIR

NEW YORK, June 4.—"There is no truth whatever in it. This is all a lawyer's trick," declared Prof. Harry Thurston Peck, A. M., Ph. D., L. H. E., LL. D. of Columbus university, when confronted with the charges brought in a suit for $50,000 for alleged breach of promise by Esther Quinn, newspaper and magazine writer, now living in Cambridge, Mass.

The professor would say nothing further.

Attorney Daniel O'Reilly, counsel for Miss Quinn, caused to be made public a number of letters alleged to have been written his client by Prof Peck which soared into the heights of Cupid's rhetoric. Every fond and endearing name in the lover's dictionary was used by the writer of the epistles and on them Miss Quinn expects to win her suit.

EPWORTH LEAGUE CONVENTION OPENS

About 40 Delegates from Neighboring Towns Here; Lecture Last Night by by Dr. Mitchell

The principal feature of the first session of the nineteenth annual convention of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church which opened here yesterday afternoon was the address of Dr. Charles Bayard Mitchell, pastor of the St. James church, Chicago, on the topic, "The Loyal Leaguer." Dr. Mitchell is well known as a speaker and in his address last night swept the large audience with him. He talked for nearly two hours during which time the auditors sat spellbound. He made three distinct points in his talk. The first one is that a loyal leaguer must be loyal to Christ, to his absolute deity, second, that he must be loyal to his church and third, that he must be loyal to his local church.

There are about forty delegates besides numerous visitors present, representing most of the churches in the district.

This morning Rev. A. Lincoln Shute delivered a talk on the "Book of Micah." The program for this afternoon is as follows:

1:30—Praise and song service.
2:00—"The Junior League," Mrs. B. C. Sills, Merrillan.
3:00—Intermission.
3:10—"The League and Foreign Missions," Dr. J. G. Vaughn, Ph. D. D., D. D., Lawrence College, Appleton.
4:00—League work at the state university discussed by Rev J. W. Rodewald, Kilbourn.
4:30—Business session; reports of officers; election of new cabinet.
7:00—Reception by local league.
8:00—Devotional services.
8:15—Lecture, "The world vision," by Dr. J. G. Vaughn, Ph. D., D. D., Lawrence College, Appleton; silver offering.

TRAGEDY FOLLOWS HUGS AND KISSES

found any gun on Prosser and if he was dead. She also wanted to know where the shot had struck him."

Mrs. Prosser told him, he went on, that she had given the porter a diamond ring for the revolver.

"She related to me that when she got into Prosser's compartment," Arlington testified, "he had placed pillows on the floor and they had lain down and while in that position she had shot him."

Deputyq Sheriff Hoffman, next testified about searching the woman at the hotel and said he found a revolver in a bureau.

Geo. Lindsay, the negro porter on the car vehemently denied having given Mrs. Prosser a weapon in exchange for a diamond or anything else.

Asked Porter to Spy

"Mrs. Prosser was liberal with her tips," the porter testified, "usually giving me $1 for a service. She told me her troubles and wanted me to find out what the three men were saying about her."

He stated that Prosser drank more than the other men.

"After Mrs. Prosser went into Posser's compartment," said the porter, "I served them three drinks. The last time I was in the room, she was sitting on Prosser's lap, hugging and kissing him and he had his arms around her."

The porter said he did not hear a shot but that a woman on the car spoke to him about having heard one.

Mrs. Prosser was called to the stand. After consultation with her counsel, she declined to make any statement.

After the inquest Mrs. Prosser was put under guard in a room at the hotel, as the Libby jail lacks facilities for caring for a woman prisoner.

PREDICTS ALL SORTS OF AIR SERVICE

NEW YORK, June 4.—Passenger aeroplanes, mail aeroplanes, express aeroplanes and aeroplanes for scout service in the navy equipped with wireless, will carry their deadly pioric and nitroglycerin batteries, are predicted within the next five years by Charles K. Hamilton, whose aviation feats at Hempstead Plains, recently, have caused astonishent.

Hamilton's hobby is an aeroplane with wireless equipment. He is entered in the New York-St. Louis aerial race, but before taking part in this he hopes to go aloft in an aeroplane and sew the air with wireless messages.

believe to be the inspiration back of the meeting.

"I would consider that a privilege indeed. Your letter, however, contains this paragraph: 'It is not expected that any one would come with the intention of creating a disturbance or to inject factional politics into the meeting.' Your invitation not only implies but in terms states that I am considered a republican. That being true I am at a loss to understand what you mean by the paragraph above quoted.

"From the newspaper notices that I have read in reference to your meeting I supposed you at least pretended holding a republican convention, and I supposed that in a republican convention the truth would always be welcome and that the speaker of the truth would not be considered a 'disturber' or a "factionalist.'

"If it is your position that a republican shall not be permited to speak the truth in reference to public questions now before the American people, surely that is foreign to the spirit of republicanism as well as to the ideals in government so often expressed by Theodore Roosevelt. It is a proposition to which I cannot subscribe, and conveys a subtle and covert insinuation which I am constrained to resent.

"With kindest personal regards, I remain,

"Very truly yours,
"THOMAS MORRIS."

"Disturbing"

"Mr. Smith suggests that if I were to come to the convention and tell the truth I would be a 'disturber,'" said Senator Morris upon finishing his dictation. "I appreciate the fact that the truth would 'disturb' the leaders of the convention."

The Worry of It

Stalwarts seemed divided between sheepishness and embarrassment today when trying to explain that the incident had "put Morris in a hole." "Puzzle picture: Find the hole," said one of a "disturbed" looking bunch on the corner of Fourth and Main streets, where the affair was the topic of discussion, and as the gathering broke up a disconsolate stalwart was heard to exude the disgusted opinion that, "Life is just one damn thing after another."

FAIR WEATHER FOR MOTORBOAT PICNIC

Weather Observer E. C. Thompson is being congratulated today by members of the La Crosse Motorboat club for his promise of "fair and warmer" weather for Sunday, the occasion of the boat club's big outing at Tagle Bluff. It is expected that about one hundred boats of all sizes, speeds and makes, will be at the levee between 8:30 and 9, the start being made at the latter hour from the city landing. Fleet Captain Lee Bell will be at the dock before the start, and each boat will be given a number, and when the procession starts the boats will fall into line according to this number.

Chief Neukomm and the means of enjoyment he will dispense, will be conveyed to the scene earlier in the day, to have dinner "on the way" before the arrival of the fleet.

Photographers who are to accompany the motorboatists, are expected to get a number of splendid pictures of the motorboat fleet. One will probably be taken at the levee before the start and others at the picnic grounds.

MILL SITUATION REMAINS THE SAME

The strike situation at the Listman mill is still unchanged. Manager George M. CAN'T IMPROVE IT SO VOTE FOR BILL decisions of the interstate commerce commission, a right denied them by the bill in its original form.

Railroads are prohibited from charging more for a through route than for the aggregate of the local rates.

A heavy penalty is provided for railroad employes who give false information to shippers who ask for rates.

A shipper, in case there are competitive routes, may dictate the route over which his goods shall be carried.

The interstate commerce commission may suspend new rates. The bills differ as to the period of suspension, however, the senate making it ten months and the house four months.

The commision may, on its own initiative or on complaint, establish through routes, joint classifications and joint rates. New reports are required of the railroads and the interstate commerce commission is given wider authority than at present.

The new laws will go into effect sixty days after its passage.

La Follette Amendments

A batch of the La Follette "turned down" amendments were as follows:

Directing the physical valuation of all properties of common carriers.

Compelling transportation companies engaged in interstate commerce to use up-to-date safety locomotive boilers and providing for government boiler inspection.

Creating four transportation districts of the United States with three commissioners in each district to have a salary of $6,000 a year each, and a secretary to draw $3,000; these commissioners to be the initial tribunal for complaints against common carriers with appeal allowed to the interstate commerce commission.

Limiting the hours of service of railway employes operating trains to fourteen in a twenty-four hour day, and prescribing penalties for violation.

Forbidding railways to compel employes to join benevolent relief associations.

Making a majority of the supreme court of the United States the determining body in assigning federal judges to the commerce court instead of permitting the chief justice solely to make the assignment.

Making provision for compensating "families of persons killed and the widows during widowhood and the children during minority—of persons who die while in service of a common carrier.

Disqualifying any oficer, stockholder or bondholder of a common carrier or any person pecuniaily interested in the property of any common carrier from serving as a judge of the commerce court.

G. M. ERICKSON TO MANAGE BUSINESS

Following announcement of the purchase of the steamer La Crosse, which will be kept in the La Crosse-Wabasha packet trade by the La Crosse-Wabasha Packet company, it is stated that until permanent business arrangements have been made, G. M. Erickson of the La Crosse Can company will have charge of the business end of the company and will be temporary manager. C. M. Morse, a wealthy resident of Winona, and S. Y. Hyde of this city are the principal owners of stock in the new company, which purchased the steamer.

DRY WEATHER IS BAD FOR CROPS

Supervisor Hans Jacobs of the town of Shelby was in the city today and reported that unless it should rain soon, growing crops would suffer heavily. Small grains, he said, are doing nicely, but corn and hay are backward. The latter crop will be small and pastures are beginning to dry up.

While in the city, Mr. Jacobs also made arrangements for a steam roller to be used on a new piece of macadam on the Mormon Coulee road. The dry weather has prevented the macadam from packing.

HELGA HOFF IS DENIED DIVORCE

Judge Higbee Holds That Grounds Are Insufficient for a Separation

After listening to all of the testimony in the divorce case of Helga Hoff against A. J. Hoff, Judge Higbee this morning denied a separation on the grounds that the testimony was insufficient to prove cruel and inhuman treatment. This is the case in which the defendant met the plaintiff while visiting in Norway last summer and later married the girl upon her arrival in this country in New York city last September. The couple came to La Crosse last winter and, it is alleged in the complaint, that the plaintiff was misused by her husband since their marriage.

A motion to amend the verdict in the case of the Stanley Scandinavian Lutheran congregation vs. the La Crosse Steel Roofing & Corrugating company, was argued this morning and the case taken under advisement. The jury in this action returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

A motion for a judgment for the defense in the case of Matilda Knudson vs. the La Crosse Stone company, in which the jury returned a verdict of $7,900 for the plaintiff, was argued and taken under advisement by the court.

Louise La Bree was granted a divorce from James L. La Bree this morning.

The divorce case of Augusta H. Johnson vs. Silas Johnson was continued until June 11.

ence, to be held at Milwaukee on June 8, are instructed to further the objects of that conference as set forth in the patriotic call under which it is to be held. They are urged to promote, by all of the means at their command, such an understanding between all elements of the party as will secure unity of action in the important campaigns of this year and a compact and harmonious party organization for the furtherance of the progressive policies of the republican party in the nation and state as exemplified in the administration of Presidents Theodore Roosevelt and Wm. H. Taft and in the executive record of Governor James O. Davidson.

Delegates Elected

The Regular delegates elected to the June 8th convention:

First district—B. C. Smith, J. M. Holley, J. W. Bryant, Wm. F. Hurtgen, Geo. H. Gordon, A. Hirshheimer, A. J. Eberhart, Frank P. Hixon, F. A. Copeland, Geo. W. Burton, Oscar Hulberg.

Second district—Chas. Linse, B. B. Mercereau, Chas. Knudson, Sam Jones, Frank Bradley, L. B. Cox, Herman Roessler, I. E. Green, John Freehoff, James Forest.

Alternates

First district—Percy Bentley, James B. Taylor, Dr. Geo. E. Powell, Dr. F. C. Suiter, F. H. Scofield, Jno Mulder, W. L. Osborne, E. G. Perkins, Orlando Holway, Thos. Stavrum, C. S. Van Auken.

Second district—Ira Richardson, Leonard Lottridge, Orrin Fletcher, Alfred Hanson, Thos. Johnson, D. F. Aiken, Daniel Stromstad, Henry Richmond, Richard Ginski, Casper Andregg.

Apology for Taft

The "keynote" speech, delivered bp John M. Hollep, Sr., provoked comment because of its apologetic tone when dealing with President Taft.

Gathering Them In

All morning long there were seen in the streets signs of excitement and activity on the part of stalwart leaders. Every man who looked as though he could make a noise like a delegate was buttonholed, and the highways and byways were scoured for the halt, the lame and the blind. The big effort was to get men who have been supporters of Senator La Follette into the convention, to take away the uniformity of its stand pat appearance and make it look like a Taft love feast of all factions. Arguments against La Follette were carefully avoided, and the name of Taft was the rabbit's foot with which the henchmen worked to entice the unwary.

Eleventh Story

Despite these strenuous efforts, however, the convention when assembled was so shure-nuff Eleventh Story as to make delegates look for the elevator going in and the fire escape going out.

PUTS IT "UP TO" MILL STRIKERS

Manager G. M. Heath of the Listman Milling company today issued the following statement concerning the plans of the company, which is in fact an ultimatum to those men still holding out, to return to work Monday, or allow their places to be filled by others:

"To packers (flour and feed), nailers, sewers and loaders, formerly in employ of Listman Mill company, but who voluntarily absented themselves from their work at the close of the day-trick 4:00 p. m., May 31, and who have not yet returned and reported for duty:

"We have decided that having deferred operation of our plant a reasonable length of time to permit all those referred to above opportunity for reviewing their action and study the proposition made by the company; we will resume operation Monday, June 6, with all those whom we can secure and undertake to break in. Sixteen have thus far been employed, some of whom have had experience; balance will be trained. Any of the old men coming back by Monday morning and applying for work will be given places so far as opportunity offers, but where places are filled, those ocupying them will be retained as long as their work and deportment is satisfactory to the company.

A fine sepia carbon print of the Right Reverend Samuel Seabury, D. D., first bishop of the American church, bishop of Connecticut and Rhode Island, has been presented by a churchwoman as a gift to Christ church in honor of is rector and his parishicners, with the desire to extend the knowledge and usefulness of the church.

Bishop Seabury was born on St. Andrew's day, in 1729, and died on St. Matthias' day, 1796. He was consecrated in Aberdeen, Scotland, November 14, 1784. His episcopate extends from his consecration to the day of his death covering a period of over eleven years, he having died in his 68th year.

The picture is at Noelke's. It is framed in the colonial moulding now in vogue, and will be a valued gift to the church and will be hung in the vestibule of the church.

EDWIN GROSS TO OPPOSE BACKUS

MILWAUKEE, June 4.—August C. Backus will not have a clear field for the republican nomination for district attorney. Edwin J. Gross, who was a candidate for the office two years ago, will again enter the field, although he is withholding his formal announcement for the present.

He will make a campaign upon the use of money in elections. His friendse say that Mr. Gross has for some time been looking into the reports that money is being sent from outside sources and elsewhere to be used to prevent the re-election of United States Senator R. M. La Follette.

Mr. Gross has been a La Folleete supporter for years, and was one of the early advocates of the senator for president. He managed the Lenroot campaign for governor in Milwaukee county, and assisted in his campaign for the United States senatorship.

WOMAN AFTER POLITICAL OFFICE

MADISON, Wis., June 4.—Nellie M. Archibald, deputy treasurer of Ashland county and a candidate to become a full fledged county treasurer, in a letter to Attorney General Gilbert says there is nothing in the Wisconsin statutes giving women the right to vote, but men are not denied the right of voting for women for county offices. She says she has announced her candidacy and wants her name placed on the official ballot. The attorney general will give an opinion in a few days.

WRIGHT ELECTED TO HEAD U. C. T.

POWER COMPANY NEED PAY NO TAX

The state tax commission has handed down a decision, following a hearing held at Madison Thursday, finding that the property of the La Crosse Water Power company is not taxable in the city of La Crosse. The commission decides that the property of the La Crosse Water Power company is taxable in the assessment districts where located. Its lines come only to the city limits and the power runs over the wires of the La Crosse Gas & Electric company in this city and therefore the commission holds that the city could not collect any portion of the taxes paid by the company upon its plant, lines or equipment. Five assessment districts in the county, outside of this city, are entitled to collect taxes from the company. These districts are the towns of Onalaska, Farmington, Campbell and Holland and the city of Onalaska. A meeting will be held at Hatfield on June 22 of all assessors in districts affected in La Crosse, Trempealeau, Buffalo and Jackson counties to make out assessments on the company's property and adjust the amounts which are to go to the various districts.

NORMAL SUMMER SCHOOL JUNE 27

Large Attendance at Course Indicated by Letters; Notes of the School

The correspondence of the president's office indicates that there will be a large attendance during the six weeks' summer term at the La Crosse normal, which opens Monday, June 27. Many inquiries are already coming in from students who wish to engage rooms in advance. Citizens livink within a reasonable distance from the normal school and having rooms they are willing to rent to students will confer a favor by notifying the office concerning them at an early date. It is hoped that residents will be willing, in large numbers, to open up their homes to the students, for in the absence of dormitories the growth and influence of the school will in large measure be determined by the readiness with which students can find suitable accommodations at reasonable rates.

Attention is called to the fact that the training school will be in session throughout the summer term of the normal. Parents having children whom they wish to enroll for this term should file their application with the president, giving name and address of the child, and grade of work in which he ought to be enrolled.

Three classes of children would be especially helped by the summer school. First, those who have failed to be promoted for any reason. Second, students who have been passed "on condition." Third, those who were promoted but known to be weak in one or more lines, and barely deserving promotion. Of course children not failing in any of these classes will be admitted if they desire it.

Normal Notes

Mrs. Homer Cotton, who has been out of school for two or three days because of illness, returned to her classes this morning. During her absence her classes were taught by the Misses Cora Schulze and Helen Jacobson, who are specializing in the department of music.

Miss Ada Thayer of the department of physical training, returned last night from Madison, where she attended the Fete day exercises of the department of physical education for women in the university of Wisconsin Wednesday night.

One of the features of our commencement week will be a similar exercise in Myrick park June 18, at 4 p. m., conducted under Miss Thayer's direction.

One of the most enjoyable chapel exercises of the year was conducted Wednesday morning, by Miss Hutchinson of the English department. She made the Abbey series of fifteen pictures which give a pictorial narrative of Sir Galahad and the Holy Grail, the subject of her half hour's talk. She combined in a most interesting manner a literary acquaintance with the King Arthur legends and an artistic and appreciative interpretation of the painter's masterpieces. The pleasure of the school was increased by the display of the large and excellent reproductions of three of this series which the school already owns, supplemented by smaller reproductions of the other twelve of the series included in the exhibit which Miss Robertson secured several days ago.

President Cotton delivered the commencement address at Trempealeau last night, and left this morn for Houston, Minn., where he deliveds the commencement address tonight, and from which he goes to Rushford, Minn., for a similar address Saturday night.

Prof. Long of the department of Latin gave the commencement address at La Farge last night.

Prof. J. O. Engleman Thursday night vave the commencement address at Ettrick, Wis., and left yesterday for Norwalk, where he gave the commencement address to the students there.

SOCIALISTS TO NOMINATE TICKET

Complete List of County and Legislative Candidates will Be Named Sunday

The socialists of La Crosse county will hold a meeting in the old Y. M. C. A. hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when a full county and legislative ticket will be nominated, subject to a referendum of the party.

R. C. McCaleb announced that the party in La Crosse county had long ago decided to place a ticket in the field and at the meeting Sunday the list of candidates will be completed. He declined to give out the names of any of the candidates who have been proposed for the several ofices, but simply said that there would be a candidate for every place upon the ticket.

After the nominations are made a lively campaign will be waged in this county, a large amount of literature being distributed. Later in the campaign prominent speakers will be brought here from Milwaukee to discuss the issues upon which the socialists will make their fight.

ASK INFORMATION FROM LA CROSSE

The Illinois Vigilance association of which Rev. William Burgess, formerly of this city, is a member, has sent requests to this city that fathers, mothers or young women who are expecting to take up employment in that city consult with them before going there so that they may examine the employment offered with a view to rooting out possible white slave schemes. Many inducements are offered to young women to come to Chicago to work for firms and houses and parents of girls who are contemplating such employment are invited to have the vigilance association investigate before the offer may be accepted. The association is carrying on rescue work on a large scale and is a great factor in the prosecution of white slavers. Rev. Burgess is a member of the special financial committee.

NORTHWESTERN GETS OUT CROP REPORT

H. J. Wagen, general agent of the Chicago and Northwestern road at Winona has issued crop bulletin No. 9 reading as follows:

The weather the past week has been generally cool, the temperature ranging from 52 to 70 degrees with a light frost Tuesday night over the entire division, doing no damage to crops. We have had several general rains during the week. While grain has not made much progress on account of weather conditions, it is generally conceded that conditions are excellent and more favorable than at the same period last year.

A one-sided controversy never gets very strenuous.

Guessing is harmless exercise for a weak imagination.

Indian Dandruff Remedy

25c and 50c $1.00 Sizes

Don't Neglect It Another Day

for the impression you make wherever you go depends entirely on your appearance and personal cleanliness. All dandruff remedies are called cures, but there are exceptional reasons why Indian Dandruff Remedy is unfailing. First, it comes directly from Nature, containing Essence of Herbs, which starts the natural flow of oils in the hair and stimulates the hair follicles to life and health. This not only removes all trace of dandruff but starts the growth of the hair, brings back its natural color. Secondly, and most important, it contains only one-half of one per cent of alcohol, while other remedies are full of alcohol, which stunts the growth and removes the natural oil of the hair. You can depend absolutely on for it has proved unfailing for years and it is not like anything else on the market.

A short trial, even, will show you surprising results.

You will realize it is most essential to the health of the hair to keep the scalp perfectly clean. Most shampoos are very cheaply prepared from inferior soap-grease, with which strong alkali is used. Naturally, this is extremely injurious to the hair. Indian Shampoo is the purest and most healing shampoo you can buy, because it is made of pure Olive Oil, proven to be the only neutral oil which really promotes the growth of the hair—and Russian Egg Albumen, making a powerful cleanser which is also most beneficial to the scalp. Without question are the purest and most efficient hair remedies ever put on sale. They are used by all the best barbers because they are so efficient and convenient.

Indian Dandruff Remedy and Indian Shampoo

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

CUMMINS HITS THE REGULARS

RED OAK, Iowa, June 4.—In the heart of the enemy's country, and in the presence of the largest gathering that ever has attended a political organization in Montgomery county, Senator A. B. Cummins assailed the record of Walter I. Smith in congress and declared that he was not a fit man to be returned to the house, because of his close alignment with the "interests."

He specifically indorsed Warren Garst for governor, Attorney General Byers and the other progressive candidates for congress.

"If the people of the Ninth district want to make Senator Nelson W. Aldrich smile and please the interests he represents," said the senator, "then let them nominate Walter I. Smith. If they want to gratify the selfish desires of Cannon, Hale, Lodge, Dalzell and Payne and the interests they represent, why, then Smith is about the man who can do the business."

FORMER GOVERNOR JOHN LIND TO RUN

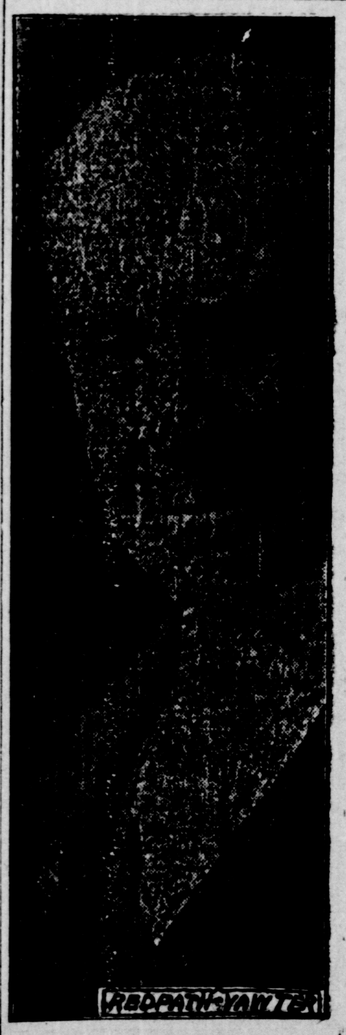

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 4.—John Lind, former governor of Minnesota, will be the democratic nominee for governor at the next election, according to word given out at Crookston, Minn., where the Northern Minnesota Development asociation is holding its convention. It is authoritatively stated that nearly every county convention will instruct for Lind.

Are You Getting What Is Due You?

Among Investment Securities Generally Recognized as Conservative, the 8% Stock of the American Telephone & Telegraph Comapny Stands at the Very Top

Why are certain securities on the Stock Exchange List regarded as conservative for investment purposes?

Because they give the highest returns possible consistent with safety to the investor.

In any investment there are two things to consider—the rate of interest and the degree of safety. Generally speaking, the lower the rate of interest the higher the degree of safety, and vice versa.

Beyond a certain point in returns, investing ends and speculating begins.

Investing assures reasonable profit—with minimum risk.

Speculating promises larger profits—but entails greater risk.

If you cannot afford to lose, you will do well to choose for investment those securities whose perfect combination of profit and safety entitle them to be classed as "conservative."

Compare This Stock With Others

Here Is a List of the Most Popular Investment Securities With Prices as Quoted on the Stock Exchange, May 16th, 1910

OUTCASTS BREAK THE LOSING STREAK

La Crosse, 2; Duluth, 1

DULUTH, Minn., June 4.—The Outcasts yesterday took the opener with Duluth in a game marked by numerous costly errors on the part of the locals. The score was 2 to 1. The visitors outplayed the locals at all stages, in batting and fielding. The score:

La Crosse 2	9	1
Duluth 1	5	5

Batteries—Whittaker and Zalusky; Thorsen and Peterson.

Red Wing, 3, Wausau 1

WAUSAC, Wis., June 4.—Nelson was wild and errors behind him gave Red Wing the opening game of the series today, 3 to 1. The weather was against fast baseball and the frequent errors on either side can be attributed to that condition.

Red Wing got but two hits but the local hurler was liberal with passes. The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Wausau 1	5	4
Red Wing 3	2	3

Batteries—Nelson and Johnson; Boyle and Hanson.

Rochester, 4; Eau Claire, 1.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., June 4.—The Commissioners' five errors yesterday cost the opening game with the Lunatics. Rochester played a better and most consistent game and deserved to win. The day was cold and under that handicap the players could not deliver their best. The score:

Rochester 4	8	1
Eau Claire 1	5	4

Batteries—McNeill and Stewart; Nicholson and Newell.

MILWAUKEE LAD MAY BE SLAIN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 4.—Louis E. Rosenthal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosenthal, and brother of Aaron Rosenthal, a Milwaukee newspaper man, is believed to have been killed in an engagement between the insurgents and the government troops at Rama, Nicaragua.

Basis for the belief lies in a dispatch received Wednesday night from Bluefields, Nicaragua, one of the insurgent strongholds, which states that in a recent attack on Rama, where the insurgents are intrenched, William Ross, said to be from Milwaukee, was killed.

It is known that Mr. Rosenthal had joined the insurgent army and was fighting under the name of "William Ross."

The attack in which Mr. Rosenthal is believed to have been killed was made on Rama, the insurgents' most boasted stronghold, on the night of May 27. Gen. Para, commanding the government troops, directed his men to attack this city in order to draw insurgent troops from Bluefields, fifty miles away on the Rama river.

In the fighting the "William Ross" mentioned directed the rapid fire guns which saved the town, but fell during the latter part of the fight.

Mr. Rosenthal was what might be termed a soldier of fortune, having left Milwaukee two years ago in search of adventure. He was for a time in Havana, Cuba, later engaged in construction work in the Province of Pinar del Rio. From Cuba he went to the West Indes and Central America.

His brother, Aaron Rosenthal is night city editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

WASHBURN SCHOOL WINS 37 POINTS

Hamilton and Franklin Are Defeated Easily by Grade Athletes Today

SEVERAL RECORDS SMASHED

Shot Put, Pole Vault, Broad Jump, High Jump and Mile Relay All Fall

The Washburn School, with a total of 37 points, took first place in the grade school meet held under the auspices of the High School Athletic Association at the fair grounds this morning. Besides the Washburn only the Hamilton and Franklin schools were entered, the former taking second place with 24 and the latter taking third with 11 points.

This was one of the best grade school meets held so far, the records in the shot put, pole vault, running broad jump, standing broad jump, high jump, and the mile relay being broken. Ribbons were given for winners of the first three places, and the Washburn school got the banner which goes to the team winning the meet. The summary:

100 yard dash. Won by Harris, Washburn school; Rasmussen, Franklin school, second; Zeisler, Washburn, third. Time, 11 1-5 seconds.

Shot put. Won by Falk, Hamilton; Tetley, Washburn, second; Rockelt, Hamilton, third. Distance, 36 feet 6 inches.

Pole vault. Won by Krause, Hamilton; Bell, Hamilton, second; Enders, Washburn, third. 8 feet 7 inches.

Running broad jump. Won by Tetley, Washburn; Romanowsky, Hamilton, second; Weimar, Washburn, third. 18 feet 2 1-2 inches.

300 yard dash. Won by Schroeder, Franklin; Harris, Washburn, second; Krause, Hamilton, third. Time 36 4-5 seconds.

Standing broad jump. Won by Kromroy, Washburn; Zeisler, Washburn, second; Hickish, Hamilton, third. 8 feet 9 1-2 inches.

High jump. Won by Webb, Washburn; Rockelt, Hamilton, second; Bell, Hamilton, third. 4 feet 11 inches.

One mile relay. Won by the Washburn school; Franklin, second; Hamilton, third. Time 3 minutes, 45 seconds.

WON'T COMPROMISE TRAMPLED LOVE

BOSTON, Mass., June 4.—Insisting that she had been "basely deceived" by Prof. Harry Thurston Peck, professor of Latin at Columbia university, New York, Mrs. Esther Quinn at her home said she would refuse to compromise the suit for $50,000 she had instituted against him for breach of promise. She tearfully declared, however, that she still loved the educator, who, acted attention while planning matrie dattention while planning matrimony with another.

"Prof. Peck has broken my heart," she said, "but he is still my ideal. For eleven years up to February 3 last, I expected he would make me his wife. He had promised to when we first met. Then I learned that he was already married, but he told me he was going to get a divorce and would wed me.

"I believed him, like a fool. Last summer he said he would marry me in August. When the time came he told me we would have to wait a few days, as he was arranging for his vacation. I went away, and when I came back went to his office in Columbia university. There I found a sign 'absent on leave until February.'

"I could not find out where he had gone, but I finally located him last February. He was not glad to see me and when I demanded a reason he told me that he was married and no longer cared for me. He must have married on impulse, although I have found out that his present wife was an old sweetheart of his. His marriage to her was a renewed romance that had been broken off since their early lives. But that doesn't excuse his action to me. He broke his word to me. He will have to suffer as he has made me suffer."

BISHOP WEBB IN LA CROSSE SUNDAY

Bishop Webb will make his annual visitation to Christ church, La Crosse, and St. Peter's church, North La Crosse, on Sunday, June 5.

At the morning service at 10:45, there will be confirmation, and the bishop will preach at the service at 7:30 p. m. at Christ church.

The service at St. Peter's church on the North side will be at 3 p. m.

The people of La Crosse are cordially invited to these services.

When You Told Your Plumber

"Now get your prices down, the cheapest man gets the ob," you forced out the quality. It was the only way to get your job. You'll seldom find us the cheapest (?) in price, but our constant aim always is to do the very best kind of work. This plan is best for both customers and ourselves.

20TH CENTURY CLUB

The Twentieth Century Club was entertained at the home of the pres- ident, Mrs. Finch, Tuesday after- noon.

It was "President's Day" and this meeting officially closed the year's work of the club. After the business meeting in which all accounts were settled incident to the district con- vention of Federated Woman's clubs held in this city last week, and the reports of the secretary and treas- urer read the meeting resolved itself into an informal social. Miss Hel- en Klosheim entertained the club with two beautiful piano solos. Liszt's twelfth rhapsody and Chop- in's etude known as "The Butter- fly."

LATE PERSONALS

Mrs. David McKee of Cashton is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Rich- ard Knight, Sr.

Mrs. Homer Ellis of Minneapolis is the guest of friends and relatives here.

Richard Knight, Jr., who has been confined at his home by ill- ness has resumed his duties with the Milwaukee road.

ADMITTED THE CRIME

HELENA, Mont., June 4.—That Mrs. Helen Prosser, divorced wife of Reese Prosser, the Seattle automo- bile agent, who is accused of shoot- ing and killing her ex-husband on a Great Northern train near Libby, Mont., confessed to him that she had shot the man, was the testimony giv- en by G. C. Arlington during the session of the coroner's inquest into the tragedy. Arlington was the prin- cipal witness. He declared that after her arrest at Libby yesterday, Mrs. Prosser admitted she killed the man and expressed no regret for it.

N. Y. GRAND CENTRAL STATION IS CLOSED

NEW YORK, June 4.—The last train will be "called" tonight at the Grand Central station tonight. The great structure will be closed pre- paratory to be razed.

Grain Letter

CHICAGO, June 4.—Notwith- standing the weakness and declines in the American markets yesterday Liverpool wheat prices were quoted 3-4 to 7-8 pence higher this morn- ing, Broomhall attributing this to smaller world's shipments, smaller offerings from Russia, nevousness on the part of shorts and as he claims "the bullish Modern Miller report." The weather map is a little more favorable, there being scattered drains and generally high- er temperatures though the latter are still low for the season of the year. Liverpool is 1-8 pence lower on corn. The weather map is more fa- vorable showing scattered rains and some little higher temperatures throughout. Yet there is no ques- tion the new plant is not nearly so far advanced as it should be, this, however, easily susceptible of being caught up with, should warm and seasonable weather prevail. Senti- ment is rather bullish.

In oats there is very litle trad- ing on speculative account and what little there is is professional and lo- cal, outside interest being meager. The warmer weather and rains will no doubt improve crop prospects.

Receipts of hogs, 9,000 heads, the market early being quoted un- changed. The provision market is largely local and professional spec- ulative affair and prices are easily influenced by any pronounced buying or selling.

Close—Wheat market today has been rather small, but was never- theless irregular and nervous. July closed 3-8 higher; September 1-8 lower; December 1-8 higher. July and September corn closed 1-8 low- er; December 3-8 higher. July oats 1-4 higher; September 1-8 lower; December 3-8 lower. Provisions showed small range.

LINER AGROUND AT CHRISTIANSAND

CHRISTIANSAND, Norway, June 4.—The Scandinavian-American lin- er United States, bound for New York with more than 1,000 passen- gers went ashore near here today. The vessel was not badly damaged but as she will be delayed for sev- eral days her passengers were tak- en off and will be sent on another boat. It was at first reported that the United States was in a bad way and leaking.

GREEKS FEAR TURKEY CONTEMPLATES MOVE

ATHENS, June 4.—For fear that Turkey is contemplating an aggres- sive move in either Crete or Thes- saly the government today called oue 10,000 reserves to reinforce the army. The government makes no official explanation of its action, but it is known that it is preparing for an overt act by Turkey.
